

Marie: I'm sure I have a picture of Louis here somewhere.

Jenny: What made you fall for him? I just can't see any thing well in him.

Marie: Well, he has a very warm personality. The first meeting you meet him, he makes you feel at ease and accepted.

Jenny: Really? But he seems so arrogant and bossy those time that you introduced him to me.

Marie: Yes, I know. Many people told him that impression. He is often misunderstood by his acquaintances. But for me he is the perfect man, both intellectually and physically.

Jenny: Are you trying to say that he stimulates your brain? I don't think so because when I talked to him, he was too limited and narrow-minded.

Marie: Well, each individual has different preferences.

Language Focus:

In talking about the person you like you can use the following phrases:

- He is a person who has...
- He is a man/she is a woman who can...
- He/she is a type of person who is likely to...
- He /She is the one I can...
- He/ she is

What do you say?

Think of your good friends. Check the words that describe him or her.

- | | | |
|------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> outgoing | <input type="checkbox"/> optimistic | <input type="checkbox"/> sense of humor |
| <input type="checkbox"/> sensitive | <input type="checkbox"/> selfish | <input type="checkbox"/> adventurous |
| <input type="checkbox"/> funny | <input type="checkbox"/> talkative | |

Interaction Link

1. What makes you like someone: appearance or intellect? Why?
2. When it comes to lifetime relationship, do Japanese focus more on appearance or personality?
3. What would you want your friend to remember about you?